COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The voter turnout for election of officers and the attendance at town meeting was about the number that I had expected. There were no contests for elective office so I guess a person would not be neglecting his voting right by not voting, but 74 persons did vote. The attendance at town meeting should have been larger but the trend this year in towns that had had their town meeting has been shorter meetings and smaller crowds.

The voters at town meeting followed the recommendations of the budget committee on every article. By voting to pay the remaining amount due on the fire station, $16,000.00, the town only has the legal obligation of approximately $15,000 at West Bethel Water System. The $15,000 should be paid off by rentals received from water customers. Of course the town is responsible for part of the SAD 44 debt but the town is relatively debt free. That is a nice position for a town to be in that has a debt limit of just under one half million dollars. I expect that the picture will be changed when the town gets started in sewer treatment works.

The tax rate should not increase this year even though the amount raised by taxation was some $3,000 more than last year. The new construction in town has increased the taxable property in town enough to take care of the increased appropriations. The budget committee recommended that less money be taken from surplus this year so a larger amount can be taken in future years to be used as a buffer against a large tax increase.

The chairman of the Board of Selectmen for the coming year will be James Hutchins. The schedule for selectmen's meetings will be the first and third Monday of the month at 8:00 p. m. Michael Houlihan

SMALL ATTENDANCE AT MONDAY SESSION

A warrant of over 50 articles was acted upon in one hour and 10 minutes at Odeon Hall, Monday evening. Approximately 90 Bethel voters attended the annual meeting at which Henry Hastings, was moderator.

The only articles engendering discussion were concerned with the placing of two streetlights: one to be located between the residences of Alton Howe and Horace Maxey, Bridge Street section, and the other near the residence of Dr. James Hudson on the Locke Mills road. These were approved after a motion to pass over the Howe-Maxey article was defeated.

The voters approved a sum of $19,442.66 to complete payment of the newly-constructed fire station, as well as approving an appropriation of $3,500 for grading and paving the area about the fire station and for certain improvements omitted from the original plans for economy reasons.

Filed in the uncontested election during the day were: Selectmen and Assessors for three years, Dr. James Hudson and J. Jay Willard, Selectman and Assessor for two years, John Brown, Town Clerk, Violet M. Bennett, Fire Ward, R. S. McMillin.

Prior to the annual business meeting in the evening the Board of Selectmen selected James Hutchins as their chairman, Mr. Hutchins, Rodney Eames, and the newly elected members constitute the Board for the coming year.

At a meeting of the Board of Selectmen following the adjournment of the annual meeting, Michael Houlihan was reelected as town manager.

COMMENT

THE PEOPLE—YES

Voters of all political persuasions are urged to contact their U. S. Senators and urge their support of the so-called "Dirksen Amendment" that is slated for a Senate vote in the near future.

In June of 1964 the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that both Houses of a State Legislature should be based on population (one-man, one-vote), without recourse to the will of the state's citizens.

The proposed "Dirksen Amendment" would give those of the states with legislative houses the right to base one house on population and the other on the basis of "population, geography and political subdivisions."

To protect Maine's right to be "Master of Its Own House," write to your U. S. Senators, Edmund Muskie and Margaret Chase Smith, and urge their support of the "Dirksen Amendment."

This measure has widespread bipartisan support.

In the words of Senator Smith, Democrat of Florida: "We who support the Dirksen Amendment are willing to trust the people; we are willing to take our chances."

Write your U. S. Senator today.

Finance Campaign Chairman of the Bangor District Boy Scouts of America is a past president of the Maine Municipal Association, is a director of the Pine Tree Society for Crippled Children and Adults in Bath, of the Rumford Community Hospital and the Greater Rumford Chamber of Commerce. LETTER TO THE EDITOR

March 7, 1966

Dear Editor of the Bethel Citizen:

One is led to wonder why Mr. McCoy feels impelled to resort to unbecomingly vituperative in answer to a simple query in your "Letter to the Editor" column.

Actually my letter noted the decrease of $250 in Gilead's school budget and went on to suggest that the accomplishment is noteworthy only if the quality of education offered to the children of Gilead did not deteriorate by virtue of the decrease. Mr. McCoy did in fact make a very reasonable explanation for the decrease namely, "There are merely fewer pupils enrolled in the public school systems and therefore less tuition to pay." That obviously would have answered my query and put the matter to rest. Mr. McCoy chose however to erect a series of straw men and then proceeded to demolish them with guests as follows:

1. I neither questioned the Gilead education program nor did I assume that the community and its children were being short-changed. I merely stated that if quality education was maintained and money was saved, that was a miraculous feat in the face of universally rising school costs.

If however the educational services were not maintained and the money was saved, the accomplishment is hardly worth the effort. How Mr. McCoy spells out an "attack" from this simple supposititious statement is beyond me.

2. I haven't the slightest doubt that "the Gilead school officials performed their duties with a high degree of responsibility to the needs of the children and the desires of the town." I challenge him to point to one syllable in my letter that even impliedly hints that the Gilead school officials did not perform their duties capably and with responsibility. Mr. McCoy painted the image and then attempted to destroy it.

3. Perhaps the most puzzling part of his letter is his reference to "pot-shots aimed at the selectmen in general and me (Mr. McCoy) in particular . . . because they are in fact, an unwarranted

20 SECONDS WITH THE NAZARENE

A NARROW WINDOW

A narrow window may let in the light,
 A tiny star dispel the gloom of night,
 A little deed a mighty wrong set right.
 A rose, a bloom, may make a desert fair,
 A single cloud may darken all the air,
 A spark may kindle ruin and despair.
 A smile, and there may be an end to strife;
 A look of love, and hate may sheathe the knife;
 A word—ah, it may be a word of life!

—Florence Earle Coates

and rather ill-natured attack on our school board." He then magnanimously offered himself as a target but begged off for the school officials who "may be more sensitive." He seems to make a distinction between the selectmen and "the school officials." Frankly I don't know whether both groups encompass the same people. I didn't even know that Gilead had "school officials" and I wonder how I could have taken a pot shot at something that I didn't know even existed. I didn't mention them in my letter and again I urge him to point out even one word in my letter that can be deemed offensive to him or his fellow selectmen except through an exercise of the imagination.

Finally as to my right to comment on the subject of Gilead's school budget please permit me to submit the following. It is true that I do not pay taxes in Gilead, but I do pay property taxes to the State of Maine, because Albany is a deorganized township. It is barely possible that some of my money does filter in to the town of Gilead for its schools through State Aid. However when did the payment of taxes become a criterion for the exercise of free speech? I can assume, I am sure, that Mr. McCoy has criticized many communities large and small, in which he pays no taxes. On several occasions including his letter of March 3, he has made unflattering allusions to the affairs of New York City and nobody has ever denied him the right to be critical. The fact of the matter is that I ride through Gilead hundreds of times each year, I have purchased products from several of its inhabitants, I don't know how much I spend there annually but the amount easily runs into three figures. That doesn't exactly make me a complete stranger to the town.

If I offended Mr. McCoy and his fellow town officials I apologize, but I feel strongly that it would have been more gracious of Mr. McCoy to have written that Gilead saved school money because there were fewer school children. That would have been a simple answer to my question and would have avoided this last letter of mine in the matter. I deem the controversy closed.

Sincerely yours,
 Mark E. Cynrot

COUNTY GOVERNMENT

For some time the citizens of Oxford County have been aware of the long running fight between Oxford County Treasurer, Stuart Martin, of Rumford Point, and County Commissioner Eli A. Gaudet of Rumford.

Some citizens are amused and some are ashamed of this feud between our county officials. I believe that this feud—probably political and personal since they represent opposite political parties—has done a lot to arouse the interest of the average citizen and make him aware of the scope and duties of County government as he hasn't been before. During the years that County government ran peacefully, few citizens thought much about it, since their only contact has been the election of a commissioner every two years and the paying of the county tax thru their local government. That wasn't even voted on and many didn't stop to realize that they paid a county tax to their local tax collector.

But County Government is big business. Besides the unorganized towns that they administer, there is the Civil Defense, Court System and Sheriff Dept., Registry of Deeds, Maintenance of County Buildings, and other functions. Along with other businesses and governments, County government is becoming

SCIENCE WORKSHOP HELD AT CRESCENT PARK SCHOOL

The Science Workshop held at Crescent Park School in Bethel, during the afternoon of March 1, for the kindergarten through the eighth grade teachers in MSAD #44, was very successful.

Edward Hanson, the D. C. Health Company representative, gave an excellent talk and demonstration. In his lecture he emphasized the need of science in our elementary program today. Because of the numerous and varied changes that have taken place in the field of science in the past few years, it is not only important, but necessary, that our young people receive a good basic background of science in the elementary grades. Mr. Hanson also emphasized four basic points that should be in every elementary program, as stated by authors in various scientific readings:

1. The elementary program should be a broad general program, giving our young people an opportunity to see and understand relationships of concepts.
2. We should encourage participation by our students in the elementary science program. Many of the materials needed for experimentation and demonstration can be obtained from the student's environmental surroundings.
3. The science program can and should be correlated with other subject areas.
4. The use of supplemental materials in the science program is also necessary. The basic text book is a good guide but does not contain all of the information that is needed in a good science program. The use of local resources can be very helpful in the science program, e. g., visits to local mills, dairy farms, etc. Resources in terms of people in the local communities can be very helpful also.

Mr. Hanson also mentioned some of the so-called "pit-falls" in the teaching of elementary science, such as:

1. Favoritism of a particular subject. Spending too much time in a particular area, which, consequently, would not allow enough time to cover other areas of equal importance.
2. Frustrations over experiments or demonstrations that fail to work. One of the best learning experiences can be derived from this for the student. Why didn't it work? What went wrong?
3. Going too deep into a subject and attempting to overwhelm the young elementary student. This could lead to frustration for the student and consequently a dislike for science.
4. Don't make science a reading program. Science can be exciting and interesting for the student by giving him the opportunity to become involved in the "doing" of the experiments, demonstrations and other activities in the program.
